Each ELI project is classified as either domestic or international based on the focus area of the program activities upon funding award. ELI makes no grant or assistance payments to organizations or individuals outside the U.S. All payments to entities outside the U.S. are subcontractor payments for services such as expertise or logistical support to carry out ELI'S program activities. A contractor status report tracks all subcontractor agreements and related payments. The Environmental Law Institute selects local partners to carry out activities related to its overall mission. For 2023, local partners were selected to assist in holding meetings related to fisheries; wildlife and timber trafficking; climate change adaptation, finance, and resilience; environmental impact assessment; digital economy & the environment; workshops on environmental compliance and enforcement; expertise on local law; and printing and translation services for international programmatic publications. Local partners, typically NGOS, are selected based on their noted expertise in the field, often in conjunction with or at the direction of the funder. Each local partner is issued a subcontract agreement which outlines specific duties to be performed in the statement of work. The work is reviewed and approved by ELI'S project manager prior to payment. For out-of-pocket reimbursements for workshop expenses, receipts and documentation are collected.
